

PUTTING THE CONTRACT TOGETHER

Rule #1: Obeying Curfew

Regina's curfew time will be 5pm on school nights (Sunday through Thursday) and 10pm on weekends (Friday & Saturday). If Regina returns home even one minute past the curfew hour according to the kitchen clock, she will be considered late. These times will not be changed or altered until I [your dad] decide otherwise. Trying to change them on your own breaks this rule.

Reward	Consequence
If Regina comes home on time, she will receive one hour added to her curfew time the next night. If it is on a school night, the temporary curfew the next night will be 6:00 p.m. and, if it is on a weekend, it will be 11:00 p.m. Regina keeps these hours as long as she comes home on time. If not, she receives the Consequence and loses this extra hour until she finishes her punishment. She can then start all over again to get her extra hour, if she comes home on time for an entire week without being late.	For every night Regina is late, she is grounded the next weekend night. If she is late again that same week, the same thing happens. If she runs out of weekend nights, it will be tacked onto the following weekend.
